NEW QUESTION: 2

Which of the following would best define a digital envelope?

- A. A message that is encrypted with the recipient's public key and signed with the sender's private key.
- B. A message that is encrypted and signed with a digital certificate.
- C. A message that is signed with a secret key and encrypted with the sender's private key.
- D. A message encrypted with a secret key attached with the message. The secret key is encrypted with the public key of the receiver.

Answer: D

Explanation:

It consists of a hybrid encryption scheme in sealing a message, by encrypting the data and sending both it and a protected form of the key to the intended recipient, so that one else can open the message.

In PKCS #7, it means first encrypting the data using a symmetric encryption algorithm and a secret key, and then encrypting the secret key using an asymmetric encryption algorithm and the public key of the intended recipient.
