NEW QUESTION: 4

An administrator is using Auto Deploy to create several ESXi 6.x hosts that will be connected to a vSphere Distributed Switch. After the hosts are deployed, the administrator notices that LACP packets are not being sent between them.

Which statement best describes why this issue is occurring?

- A. LACP has not been configured on the Auto Deploy server.
- B. LACP is not enabled on the vCenter Server.
- C. The LACP installation bundle is not included in the image profile.
- D. The LACP support settings do not exist in the host profile.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Link Aggregation Control Protocol (LACP) on a vSphere distributed switch allows network devices to negotiate automatic bundling of links by sending LACP packets to a peer. However, there are some limitations when using LACP with a vSphere-distributed switch.

LACP only works with IP Hash load balancing and Link Status Network failover detection.

LACP is not compatible with iSCSI software multipathing.

vSphere only supports one LACP group per distributed switch, and only one LACP group per host.

LACP settings do not exist in host profiles.

LACP between two nested ESXi hosts is not possible.

LACP does not work with port mirroring.
